DEDICATION

His house is full of gifts that his choir has given him. They are symbolic of their appreciation for not only his musical ability, but his art of establishing pride and accomplishment, through music, in students from nearly every sector of the college.

He is the chairman of one of the smaller departments at Lenoir-Rhyne, but one whose success is vital for a quality liberal arts institution. Lenoir-Rhyne is not new this man. A native of Newton, he graduated from Lenoir-Rhyne in 1963 and joined the college faculty in 1966.

Few people realize how many hours outside the class Professor Ray McNeely gives to Lenoir-Rhyne. He is a goodwill ambassador, well-known throughout the state, with a faithful following of music lovers. Most recently, he took the choir to Florida on their spring tour. In the summer of 1986, Professor McNeely bravely led the choir to Europe.

Unfortunately, few students, overall, have the opportunity to experience this director, leader, and friend. Nevertheless, the senior class recognizes and applauds the achievements of this man. He has taught Lenoir-Rhyne how to sing, and we look forward to his future gifts of music. With this, the senior class dedicates the 1987 HACAWA to Professor Ray McNeely.

From East to West, Europe to the Middle East, L-R does it with style!! From August to May, everyone is buried beneath a stack of books, papers and assignments to be done, but when summer arrives, L-R breaks loose! Many choose to spend their vacation abroad, traveling in Europe, Asia, or some other corner of the world. London, Paris, Munich, Jerusalem, and Puño are just a few of the cities that L-R left its mark on this summer. For some, classes continue during the summer in foreign universities. Many students take advantage of the opportunity to study abroad during the summer or a regular semester in such regions as France or Spain. The Foreign Language Department extends class credit for studies abroad to students each year. Many simply enjoy the chance to explore the world outside of a classroom. Wherever they may choose to go, though, L-R students are moving in the world.

IF YOU CAN'T BEAT 'EM, JOIN 'EM!! Sherry Hartley, Betsy Clark and Lois Stirewalt enjoy a fountain in Place de la Concorde.

Spring at last! Lenoir-Rhyne put down the books and for a day of fun and excitement at Spring Fling 1986. The stadium came to life with the music and shouts, as Sugarcreek rocked the afternoon away. Frisbees could be seen flying through the stadium as students enjoyed the break in the day-to-day routine. For those who were interested only in improving their tan, this was the day. Spring Fling '86 ended with a cookout beside the Cromer Center. Too bad that all study breaks are not as exciting as this one!

HONORS CONVOCATION — GRADUATION

Finally. We thought this day would never be here, but as we look back, we realize how quickly time seemed to fly by. We have shared so much over the past four years here at Lenoir-Rhyne — tears of joy and sorrow, laughter, parties. We have become a family, close-knit and strong. This is a happy day for all of us and a sad one as well. For some of us we will not see each other again; then others of us may be neighbors. Whichever the case, we will have our memories of the happy times, sad times, friendships, favorite classes and professors. Although we have only just begun our lives, these memories of the best years of our lives will be cherished and shared with others.

Beth Newbury, Cindy Clemmons, and Judy Bowles share the excitement of graduation.

The Senior Class approaches the end of four long years at the annual Honors Convocation.

There were no tears in these eyes as graduation drew near.

WE'VE ONLY JUST BEGUN

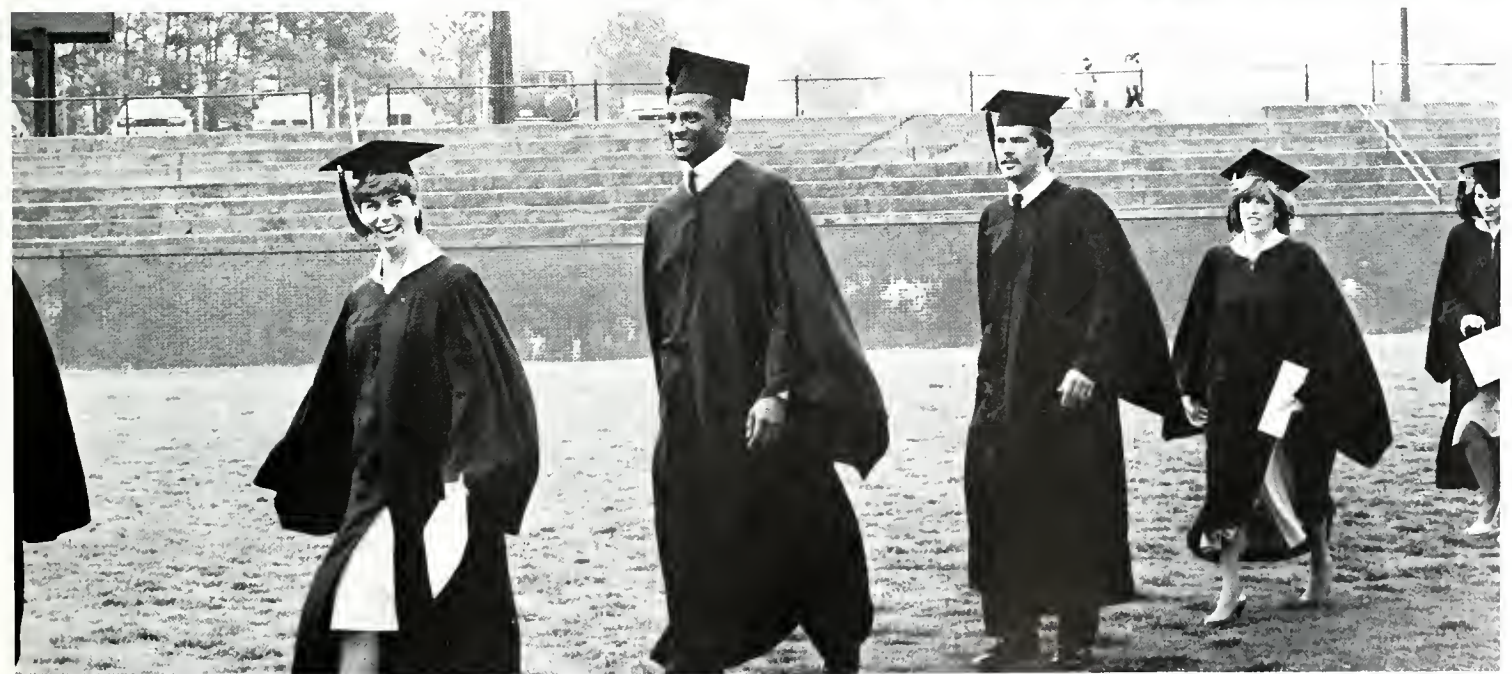

Graduation, for these seniors, is only the beginning.

President Trainer presents one of many honors during the ceremony.

Proud graduates of the nursing department, these people have a lot to smile about.

Excitement fills the air as these seniors make their last appearance as L-R students.

It was the best of times! "It" was the trip to Puno, Peru made by 15 students and 6 faculty/staff members. We left on May 13, 1986 to travel to a village high in the Andes mountains to build an elementary school. We built the school from the foundation to the roof with our hands. We worked hand in hand with the Peruvians and made many long-lasting friends in the process. This school will stand long after we, the builders, are gone. It will stand not only as a place for children to learn their ABC's, but as a monument to the best in humanity — the giving of oneself to make the world a better place. The worst of the best? Getting used to cold showers, no electricity, and primitive bathroom facilities (if any). The best of the best? Experiencing a new and different culture, building friendships that will last a lifetime, and making a lasting contribution to the world for the betterment of mankind.

— Nancy Semones

Wonder what they are up to! The girls in front of their apartment.

PROLOGUE . . .

A STEP FORWARD

Live on stage — Dean Ed Lewis entertains students during a skit.

Freshmen students encounter many new names, new faces, and new beginnings as they enter the world of college life. To make them feel more at home, Lenoir-Rhyne offers an orientation program at the beginning of the school year called Prologue. Prologue gives the students a chance to meet new friends and to get to know the campus better.

The Prologue leaders are upperclass students who are interested in the needs of their fellow students. They serve as guides and friends to the new freshmen.

Some of the activities that were included in this year's Prologue consisted of: a movie, a dance, a scavenger hunt, a pizza party, a band concert, a beauty contest, a reception at President Trainer's house, and a trip to the ropes course.

Mike Shakleford and Marty Blocker were student coordinators for this year's Prologue, and thirty-three upperclass students served as leaders.

This takes skill — These freshmen students seem to be getting off to a well-balanced start on the balance beam.

GROUNDBREAKING
 THE NEW PUBLICITY

President Trainer addresses the groundbreaking audience.

On May 1, 1986, the campus community broke ground for an addition and renovations to the Cromer Center. The project will serve students, faculty, and staff as a 'gathering place' and snack bar facility.

When the project is completed in early 1987, it will provide the campus with a special spot for conversation, food, dancing, and entertainment.

A generous gift from the Canon Charitable Trusts of Kannapolis made the addition possible.

Cannon Charitable Trusts participants: Mr. George A. Batte, chairman; Mr. Harris Cannon, Trustee and Mr. Allen P. Graves, executive director.

The Leadership Development Program at Lenoir-Rhyne has been a highlight for many of the students involved. The program, now in its fourth year, has given both students and staff a way of sharing in a learning environ-

The Fall retreat takes place in the Blue Ridge Mountain town of Blowing Rock. This serves as an excellent atmosphere for enhancing leadership skills, along with fun and fellowship.

The winter of 1987 at Lenoir-Rhyne was one to remember. As the snow began to fall, the students questioned one another if they felt that classes would be cancelled. The snow kept falling and got deeper by the moment. Classes were cancelled and the students enjoyed their days off from classes. The campus turned into a battle zone, as snowball fights broke out all over campus. Others played winter sports. The campus had been blanketed in one the most beautiful snowfalls in years. The staff leaves these scenes to capture that memorable winter.

CONVOCACTIONS FORUMS

A number of forums and convocations were held throughout the year for the L-R community. These gave the students an opportunity to learn more about such things as The Role of Newspapers, or perhaps the Holocaust, presented by Helen Waterford and Alfons Heck. Convocations were varied to include such cultural events as the Ballet do France and some of the Playmakers productions. There was a variety to choose from and many were often crowded with attentive students and faculty/staff wanting to learn more.

Playmakers. That group of dedicated Lenoir-Rhyne students and faculty coming together to give us campus a first hand look at live theatre. These people are dedicated to their art and have many excellent productions to their credit. The 1986-87 season included Aesop's Magic (Children's Theatre), Lysistrata, Dinner Theatre, The Goodliest Land, The Dresser, and The Last Age of Innocence — a look at Hickory during the turn of century.

Pi Kappa Phi 'little rascals'

Homecoming 1986 was filled with laughter as Lenoir-Rhyne saluted American comedy. The theme was enhanced even more by the appearance of Spanky MacFarland as Grand Marshall. Clips from the Little Rascals series, which boosted MacFarland to fame, were shown throughout the week. Organizations were busy throughout the week preparing for the parade.

Halftime activities were the highlight of the afternoon. Mary Moose was crowned Homecoming Queen 1986. She represented Tau Kappa Epsilon Fraternity. Anne Helms, representing Theta Chi, was first runner-up and Terrell Gates, who represented Pi Kappa Phi, was chosen as second runner-up.

Homecoming '86 was a huge success as everyone joined in the celebration. L-R Laugh-in will be remembered with a smile.

The band shows their L-R spirit, as they add a note of enthusiasm to the game.

COMMUTERS

Commuter students. As the "title" implies, they are the students who do not live on campus. First year commuters are given an orientation similar to that the incoming freshmen get. This makes them feel more comfortable in their surroundings at L-R. Presently there are over four hundred commuter students, all here to obtain that liberal arts degree. The difference between commuter students and dorm students is that they are not always in the mainstream, but that does not stop them. They are involved in the Greek system, sports, and other campus organizations. The commuters are a vital part of the Lenoir-Rhyne community.

SENIOR CLASS PRESIDENT

*David Rhodes Keck, Jr
Bus. Admin (History Minor)
Kannapolis, NC*

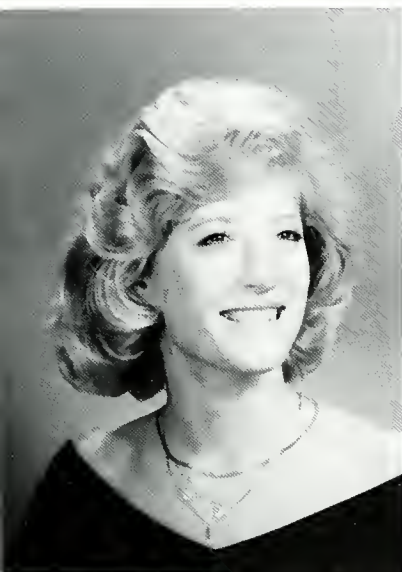

"We have built memories, relationships, and foundations to walk with us on our journies"

The class of '87 began four years at Lenoir-Rhyne with high expectations and tremendous challenges — to learn, to laugh, to lead, and to leave here with higher standards. With classmates and peers they have met these challenges — learning, laughing, leading, and preparing themselves for the highest standard of all, the future.

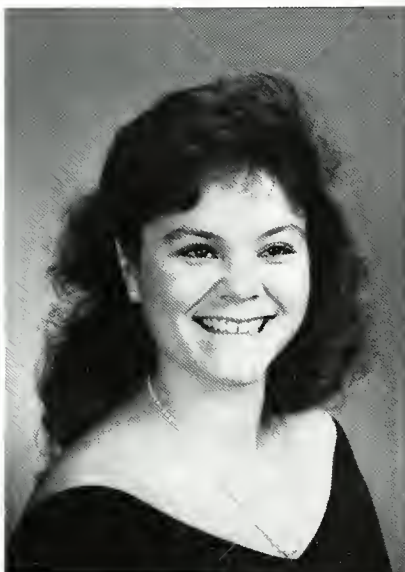

This class wishes to extend its gratitude to the faculty and staff for helping them to meet their goals and conquer all challenges. They also thank the school itself not only for giving them the opportunity to learn academically, but for the opportunity to learn to live.

President Keck wishes to thank his Senior Class Council: Colleen Brennan, Alan Deal, Anne Helms, Doris McLean, Brad Poindexter, Paul Pruett, Nancy Semones, Elizabeth Soutendijk, and Kelly Young.

"We have every intention of making our future great while always remembering where we came from."

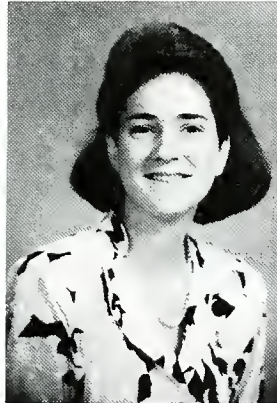

Drive and ambition are the keywords for the 86-87 Junior Class; throughout the year, they've driven themselves for better communications and relations within their class, with other campus organizations, and in the L-R community as a whole.

With the realization that college life is quickly finishing up, the juniors have already begun the framework for their senior year. They have started preparing for the graduation speaker, as well as thinking of ideas for the Class of '88's senior gift.

Planning for the 1987 HACAWA began late in the 1986 Spring semester. During the summer, Phillip Barnes, Michael Reese, Scott Frank, Wendy Isenhour and myself attended the Jostens workshop, with four of the five being beginners. During the workshop we all learned more about how a yearbook is produced. At the conclusion of the workshop we had developed the theme and plans for the book were beginning to take shape.

Once back at L-R, a staff was put together and the actual work began. A lot of late nights, dedication, and lots of hard work got us through the year as we raced to meet our deadlines.

The HACAWA staff would like to thank all who helped us through the year in providing copy and guidance. We hope that everyone enjoys this book of memories as much as we enjoyed compiling it.

From a small office in the back of the Cromer Center comes the Lenoir-Rhyean, the college's student-run newspaper. Each week the staff tries to present an eight page newspaper that tells what's going on at Lenoir-Rhyne. The newspaper also tries to serve as a medium of student opinion. The staff has had a busy semester trying to meet the necessary weekly deadlines and cover things well. This year they are trying some new things, while keeping their eyes on what has been done before. Their motto is "Whatever it takes to get the job done."

The International Club is an organization which promotes interaction among students from different cultural and ethnic backgrounds. The club, relatively new to the campus, gives students the opportunity to learn about lifestyles and customs other than their own. Meetings are very informal and the diverse backgrounds and viewpoints of members make the club unique. Membership is open to anyone.

ENGLISH CLUB

The English Club is for anyone who is interested in literature or in creative writing. It was originally for English majors, but now it is open to all students. One of the major functions of the English Club is to edit and to produce the Anima, the literary magazine. The Anima accepts contributions from all students, faculty and staff. This year, the Anima was published twice — one issue in the fall (held over from last spring), and another issue in the spring. The Anima contains poetry, fiction, and prose. The English Club strives to foster a creative atmosphere at Lenoir-Rhyne.

HISTORY CLUB

The History Club is an organization open to all with an interest in History. During the year, the History Club makes trips to local historical sites. They annually plan picnics and see movies with historical value, such as "Gone With The Wind", and "Citizen Kane".

L-R Playmakers is a 60-year-old organization dedicated to the production of fine theatrical works. Playmakers is open to all L-R students, staff, faculty, and community members. Anyone who helps in any way with the production of a play sponsored by Playmakers is a member of the organization. Currently, Playmakers include students from every major. Playmakers "jobs" range from electrical wiring to box office and publicity — with a lot in between! Hard work and willingness to learn are the only requirements for being a Playmaker. The collective talents of many very different individuals makes Playmakers an exciting organization and is essential to the success of theatre at Lenoir-Rhyne.

FOOLS FOR CHRIST

Fools for Christ is a club that helps to lead worship services. This group is based on First Corinthians 4:10, "We are fools for Christ's sake, while you are such sensible Christians." Before a service, each person dressed in a clown-type outfit. Then everyone paints his face white, as a symbol of death. The colors added symbolize the rebirth. From that time on, until the makeup comes off, each person remains mute. This act allows unique and open expression. The entire service is done in mime. A Head Clown leads each service and performs the sermon. The group has several different services which they perform. There are no requirements for membership, just a desire to help spread the word of God in a unique type of service. This year Fools for Christ led worship services at Chapel and in local churches. Their performances are not just for kids, they are for the "kid in everyone."

BAPTIST STUDENT UNION

Baptist Student Union is an interdenominational group of students who want to grow in Christ and to help others in His name. The Organization is supported by the Southern Baptist Convention and is affiliated with similar groups throughout the nation. The two major purposes are first to provide an opportunity for interested students to enjoy a weekly time of fellowship and bible study with other Christians and secondly to minister to the school and community through missions projects. This year the Baptist Student Union sponsored folksinger and humourist Ed Kilbourne in concert, visited the residents of Sipe's Orchard Home, and attended the Fall and Spring State Meetings.

A key part of the L-R football team's support comes from the volunteer organizations of the Honeybears. This spirited group of young women turn out on home games to sell programs and give tours to high school football recruits who visit the L-R community. Every Friday the girls leave a gift of candy or food in the football players' lockers, and on Homecoming they give the team t-shirts. Associated with the Honeybears are the ball girls and water girls. These ladies assist the referees and players during the game. Honeybears is an important part of the football tradition at L-R and is under the direction of Coach John Perry.

When one attends Lenoir-Rhyne football games, he can hear the yells of "Joe Bear" echoing through the stands from children, adults, and rowdy college students alike. During time-outs and half-times, he keeps the fans cheering to the yells of the cheerleaders and laughing to his clownish antics. Everyone loves Joe Bear, and he remains an essential part of the sports tradition of the L-R community.

most participation in flag-football in recent years. The freshman girls were strong in the flag-football competition entering four squads in this year's competition. The intramural program is looking forward to the same spirited involvement in the sports available for participation as well.

Days became weeks, weeks became months, and months quickly became another year. But even though months go by fast, they are undoubtedly filled with memories; memories of past events, past classes, and teachers, and friendships that seem to strengthen with time.

This year we have tried to capture all aspects of life here at Lenoir-Rhyne, good times, sad times, party times, and quiet times. But more than anything we have tried to stop time, if only for a brief moment. If one picture or phrase in the yearbook makes you stop and think back on the year, no matter what emotion comes to mind, we know that we've succeeded.
